

Maintenance

Based on usage, open jaws fully and clean dirt and metal pieces from the threads. After cleaning, apply a small amount of light oil to threads.

Jaw Thread Replacement

Overtightening the jaws will cause wear and damage to the threads. If jaws become loose, replace with kit #003-829. Remove the jaws by opening them as wide as possible until they come off the end of the jaw screw (FIG. 1). The jaw thread pin is located on the underside of each jaw. NOTE: Before removing pins, locate the one with the “L”. This is the left hand thread pin and will need to be replaced with the same. Apply a small amount of synthetic grease (included in kit) to the O-ring and jaw screw before installing them. Lift the jaw screw out of the yoke and replace it. Note which side the left hand thread is on. Grease the threads and yoke well.

Start the jaw threads at the same time when replacing them (FIG. 2). Hold each jaw in position and turn the jaw screw to close them. Either a large rubber band or a second person is useful to hold the jaws against the thread while the jaw screw is turned. If the jaws don't meet at the same time in the center, remove them and try starting the threads at the same time again.

Rotational Lock Replacement

The LOCK or DRAG PIN is subject to wear by design and may need replacement after extended use. Simply remove the ball swivel tension screw with hex wrench. The Spring and Lock Pin should follow (FIG. 3). If not, turn the ball until they fall out. Replace the Lock Pin (order #003-307), Spring and Tension Screw.
